Announcer: Listen to Lily who introduces her boyfriend Evan.

- Mark: Hey Lily. You've finally made it.
Lily: Hi Dad, what's up?
Mark: You must be tired. How are you doing?
Lily: Good, thanks.
Mark: Haven't seen you in a while. What's new?
Lily: Dad, I'd like you to meet Evan. Evan, this is my Dad.
Mark: Well, hello. Nice to meet you, Evan.
Evan: Nice to meet you too, sir.
Mark: We've heard a lot about you. Lily thinks you're really smart and –
Lily: Dad –
Mark: good-looking.
Lily: Dad!
Mark: Anyway, do you like football, Evan? There's a big game after lunch on TV. Do you want to join us?
Evan: Yes, sir, thank you!
Mark: You needn't call me 'sir'. I'm Mark.
Evan: OK – Mark. Soooo ... what have you been up to over the holiday weekend?
Mark: Not much. I've talked with everyone in the family and eaten too much! Maybe we should go for a walk.
Evan: That's a good idea. Lily, what about you?
Lily: Yeah, sure. What have you brought in that bag, Evan?
Evan: Oh, I forgot. My Mum gave me an apple pie for you.
Mark: Wow! That looks great. It's very nice of her, thanks. How is she?
Evan: She's good, thanks.
Mark: I'll call Julia and then get us some drinks. Julia, come and meet Evan.
Evan: Can I help with anything?
Mark: No, thanks, we're fine. I just hope you are hungry.
Evan: I sure am.
Julia: Evan, how are things going?
